COREPBS

THE COREPBS PRACTITIONER PATHWAY

Trained properly. Supported from the start. Progressing through the framework.

We take on a small number of new practitioners each intake, train them through our complete program with assessments and supervision check ins, and connect them with a partner registered provider for supported practice. The goal is simple: better behaviour support, for the people we support and for us as practitioners.

01

Apply

A small intake, selected for fit and readiness, not first in.

02

Train

Complete Core Practitioner Training. Twelve modules across the Capability Framework, an assessment in every module, supervision check ins along the way.

03

Review

At completion we sit down together and look at where you are, what you need, and what we have.

04

Practise

Supported practice with a partner registered provider. Employment or contracting roles where you are suitable and a role is open. Ongoing supervision.

05

Progress

A clear route through the framework towards Proficient. Audit preparation if you later want your own practice.

BEFORE YOU SEE CLIENTS

Strong theoretical foundations first, tested in ways that transfer to real cases.

WHILE YOU PRACTISE

Supervision and a team, so you are never working it out alone.

AS YOU GROW

Progression is built in. The aim is Proficient, not staying at Core.

> When practitioners are well trained and well supported, plans get better, teams implement them, and people's lives improve. That is the whole point.

COREPBS

Who it is for Working towards suitability. You want to become a behaviour support practitioner and want to do it properly.

Newly found suitable. You are registered at Core and want structure and support from day one.

Ready to progress. You are practising and want a clear path through the framework, with supervision.

What is included

Complete Core Practitioner Training, twelve modules

An assessment in every module, building your evidence portfolio

Supervision check ins through the program

A completion review of where you are and what fits next

A connection to supported practice with a partner registered provider

WHAT IT IS BUILT TO FIX

Thrown in the deep end	New practitioners writing plans before the theory is solid. Here, you are trained and assessed before you are relied on.
Stuck at Core	Pathways that stall once you are practising. Here, progression through the framework is built in, not left to chance.
Working it out alone	Isolation, guesswork, and burnout. Here, you have supervision and people who know the work.
Plans that sit in a drawer	Compliant documents that teams cannot use. Here, quality is measured by what happens after handover.

What it costs

$1,290 founding intake for the Complete Core Practitioner Training

Payment plans on request

Supervision after completion, and employment or contracting terms, are discussed with you individually

The honest part

Training strengthens knowledge. It does not confer suitability; the NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission decides that.

Employment and contracting depend on your suitability and on roles open at the time. They are an opportunity, not a guarantee.

Places are limited each intake.

Register your interest and we will be in touch about the next intake.

corepbs.com/work.html

amy@corepbs.com

CorePBS is independent of the NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission.